

Maryland Leads: Staff Support and Retention

Why It Matters

Teachers are at the heart of students learning. In these times where teachers are stretched thin and struggling because of the past two disruptive and challenging years, an intentional focus on supporting and retaining staff is paramount to student success. With this initiative, districts and school leaders can engage an outside partner for strategic counsel, expanded bandwidth, and proven expertise.

Our Perspective

Leaders who pay attention to systems and cultivate healthy work environments will contribute directly to increased teacher retention and, within it, improved student outcomes
